FEECO will be exhibiting at the 2007 FEW show in St. Louis this month

PR9.NET June 13, 2007 - Green Bay, WI - (FEECO International, a world leading manufacturer of coolers – including ethanol coolers, dryers and systems will showcase at the 2007 Fuel Ethanol Workshop & Expo in St. Louis Missouri June 26 – 29, 2007. The FEW show will feature cutting-edge technical workshops and informative product seminars, an expo with a quarter of a million square feet and over 550 exhibitors, three different industry tours, and much, much, more!

FEECO will demonstrate a model version of their gear driven Ethanol Dryer at the show (Booth #1735) which uses a unique double bend design to maximize the air-to-material (DDGS) contact creating more uniform material drying. FEECO also specializes in:

- Ethanol Coolers - Counter-flow cooling is recognized as the most efficient cooling alternative and possesses inherent advantages, which cannot be achieved with other cooling approaches and

- Complete Ethanol Systems - FEECO can package the counter-flow cooler and rotary dryer into a complete system that is more energy efficient and versatile than competing systems.
