You might have used our online backup solution with satisfactory result. But you might not know that it was produced by us, Ahsay.

PR9.NET June 11, 2007 - HONG KONG - We have been dedicated in developing online backup solution since 2000. We supply our product to online backup service providers, our partners, as a white-label product. They then brand it with their own brands and ride on it to provide online backup services to their customers. So, you might have tried the solutions provided by some of our partners.

As the product is with high value-for-money compared to other similar products in the market, it spreads out fast among the service providers. Currently, we have more than 1,000 partners and the solution has reached 500,000 deployments worldwide. Our sales volume grows 4 times per year.

You may check our full list of partner here: http://www.ahsay.com/en/partners/partners_list.html and there should be names that you're familiar with.

Core competencies of our product

Low cost, best protection

Ahsay Offsite Backup Suite offers complete protection to business data, and is the best value for money solution available on the market. Unlike other products, Ahsay offers all the core features that users really NEED, without having them to pay for some "nice-to-have" ones which will never be used.

Multilingual

Ahsay allows partners to serve their customer in their own languages. Currently, Ahsay supports 21 major languages which cover 90% of population around the world -- far more than what the competitors are offering. These 21 languages include English, Czech, Danish, German, Spanish, French, Icelandic, Italian, Japanese, Dutch, Norwegian, Slovenian, Swedish, Simplified Chinese and Traditional Chinese, Portuguese, Lithuanian, Finnish, Turkish, Hungarian, and Greek.

Full OEM branding

Our backup software is popular among partners of ISPs and Online Backup Service Providers as the core solution that powers their data backup business. Apart from being a robust solution, Ahsay offers full OEM branding feature so that our partners can incorporate the software as part of their total solution. We provide a customization portal to help them create their own branded version and sell to their customers on the fly. Ahsay is probably the only online backup software that offers our partners with such flexibility.

Multiple levels of protection

Ahsay offers more protection than similar solutions on the market by providing an added level of assurance. Leveraging on Ahsay's Replication Module, backed up data can be replicated to an Ahsay Replication Server ("AhsayRPS") located offsite in another building, district or even another country. Company can thus be protected from computer virus attacks, fires, natural disasters, terrorist attacks, wars, etc.

Stable and proven technology

Unlike conventional backup approach, Ahsay requires absolutely no human interaction, which is error-prone, to complete the whole backup operation. Backups would not be missed and thus ensures reliable backup on schedule and error-free. Important business data will always be available and accessible whenever users need it.

Compatible with all common operating system

Users no longer need to worry about the compatibility of backup software and OS.

AhsayOBM can be run on essentially all the common platforms, including Windows, Linux, Mac, NetWare, UNIX (Solaris, AIX, HP-UX, FreeBSD) and all other platforms that support Java 2 SDK 1.3.1 Standard Edition.

Top security and military level encryption

AhsayOBM secures all business data in encrypted format & sends through a SSL channel. All data are 128-bit encrypted and compressed before being uploaded and stored on AhsayOBS through a secure SSL channel. Nobody, not even Ahsay, can read the files. Decryption is possible only with user's password.

Ready for home / small business user

Targeting the need of home and small business users who do not have comprehensive computer knowledge, Ahsay started offering our partners with the Ahsay A-Click Backup in late 2006. It is a light version of Ahsay Online Backup Manager (AhsayOBM) and retains all major features of AhsayOBM, but with much simple settings and easy-to-use interface, making our partner to explore the home user and small business markets.
