AccessoryBug.com offers different brand name accessories at unbelievable prices.

PR9.NET June 14, 2007 - New York, NY - AccessoryBug.com is proud to announce the successful worldwide launch of its website. This website is described, by one visitor, as, "The absolute best web site on the internet to buy accessories. This web site is loaded with different brands and styles of accessories, from Valentino hand bags to Enzo sunglasses."

This ground-breaking new web site brings all the characteristics of shopping at a fashion store directly to the user's computer. Consumer's can browse the huge inventory of designer bags, watches, wallets, sunglasses, and more, all of which have been featured in the widely-read People's Style Watch Magazine. The magazine has had raving reviews for the products offered by some of AccessoryBug.com's competitors, even though AccessoryBug.com offers the same products at lower prices.

The owner and lead developer of AccessoryBug.com described the site as, "The new giant in selling different accessory items. Loaded with every brand, you are sure to find what you are looking for at AccessoryBug.com."

AccessoryBug.com's user interface was designed by keeping the consumer in mind. The easy interface allows people to search products based on price or brand. At AccessoryBug.com, satisfaction is guaranteed because of the wide array of products and inexpensive prices.

AccessoryBug.com uses Google Checkout, which accepts all the major credit cards. Right now, customers receive a 10% discount on the whole purchase by mentioning BAU10 during checkout. You can get all the information and view customer testimonials at <http://www.AccessoryBug.com>.
