DigiLinea Provides Panamanians Worldwide the Ability to Add a Local Telephone Number to Their Existing Mobile Phone

PR9.NET July 09, 2007 - Doral, FL – DigiLinea, the leader in innovative telephony solutions over mobile networks to the US Hispanic and Latin American markets, announced today the availability of a new mobile telephony solution for Panamanians worldwide. Merging the best of the Internet with your mobile phone DigiLinea now allows Panamanians to add a local telephone number from Panama City to their US mobile phone allowing them to make and receive calls locally as if they were still in Panama.

This expansion helps DigiLinea further address the needs of the US Hispanic market all of whom are looking for innovative calling solutions to use from their mobile phones to stay in touch with their friends and family in Latin America. The DigiLinea mobile solution leverages fixed mobile convergence technologies to provide free or ultra low cost calls between the US and Latin America making all calls local. DigiLinea by converting all calls to local calls provides dramatic savings over traditional calling for the US Hispanic market.

Gregory Keough CEO and Chairman of DigiLinea stated, "By merging the best of internet telephony with your existing mobile phone DigiLinea makes it easy for the US Hispanic market to receive and make calls locally throughout Latin America as if they were still back home. The market is looking for products that leverage the latest technologies to make calling cheaper and easier. This latest offering is yet another example of how DigiLinea is leveraging fixed mobile convergence to meet the specific needs of the US Hispanic clients."

DigiLinea brings local calling to the mobile phones of US Hispanics and covers over 100 cities throughout Latin America and all the major cities of Mexico, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Venezuela, Panama, and Peru.
