Keyless Lock Company Provides Improved Service To Customers Via Their New Website; Company Offers Wide Range of Quality Products.

PR9.NET July 18, 2007 - New York, NY - Keyless Access Locks, a company that provides cutting-edge lock technologies to its customers, is pleased to announce that they've launched a new, redesigned website. With an ever-expanding range of locks in their inventory, Keyless Access Locks decided to revamp the site. The new website, www.keylessaccesslocks.com, displays their large inventory and offers information on the dozens of different types of locks they have available.

Whether you are looking for a few locks for your new home, or are a landlord looking for replacements for a large number of locks, Keyless Access Locks can assist you. Developers and builders need to acquire locks in large numbers; at keylessaccesslocks.com, you can select the model or models that meet your various needs and have them shipped directly to the work site with total confidence. A renovation – of a home, hotel, office space, or restaurant – may mean that it's time to install new locks. Keyless Access Locks has what you need and their website makes it easy for you to purchase it.

Locks are designed for certain kinds of spaces and traffic levels. Keyless Access Locks, which provides detailed informational "packets" for each lock for sale at their website, understands your need for site-specific locks, and will advise you as to which model is appropriate a given situation.

Fingerprint-sensitive locks; keycard locks; and Shabbat locks all have their uses and can be hard to find. Using Keyless Access Locks' website makes the process of buying these designs much easier. If you are concerned about buying an electronic lock and would prefer a mechanical lock, Keyless Access Locks can provide you with a wide range of possibilities. Accessories for locks, such as enclosures, interchangeable cores, keycards, and knob sets can also be ordered from Keyless Access Locks.

The newly designed website allows you to search by type of lock (mechanical locks; electronic locks; fingerprint locks; Shabbat or Shabbos locks), by manufacturer, and even by bestsellers (a handy shortcut for many people). The website also has links for gift certificates (giving and using) and web coupons. If you have questions about product installation, the knowledgeable staff can be reached by email or telephone and is happy to answer your questions.

When you're trying to create a safe, secure environment, almost nothing is more important than the lock you install. Hardware stores tend to have quality products but a limited range, and few emphasize keyless locks. Keyless Access Locks can make the process of buying a keyless lock – whether you need just one lock or 1000 locks – much easier.
