Rapid Micro Biosystems needed fast turn around on project

PR9.NET July 31, 2007 - MANCHESTER, NH - Heartwood Media, an award-winning Manchester, NH video production company, recently produced a web video for Rapid Micro Biosystems of Bedford, MA.

The project required that Heartwood Media shoot, edit and compress a product overview video for use in a PowerPoint presentation at a trade show. Heartwood created the video in less than a week.

"We were able to go in and shoot the presentation, edit the video and get it ready for their show in quick order", said Chris Conroy, Creative Director of Heartwood Media. "It's a bit of a challenge working under such a short time frame, but the end product looks great and is exactly what the client asked for."

The ability to turn things around rapidly and professionally to satisfy a client's need is part of what makes Heartwood Media one of the top video production companies in the Manchester area.
