Elaine Clark, author, director, and voice over instructor, teaches voice actors how use a script as a roadmap to success when communicating a message via the Voice Over Experts Podcast at Voices.com.

PR9.NET August 14, 2007 - Toronto, Canada – Elaine Clark, voice over instructor and author of the book "There's Money Where Your Mouth Is", is this week's guest lecturer on the popular Voice Over Experts Podcast, <http://podcasts.voices.com/>, the most listened to educational podcast for beginner and professional voice actors. Elaine Clark is the owner of VOICE ONE in San Francisco, a voice over school that offers a variety of courses throughout the year with varying levels of difficulty including classes for voice over, on-camera, acting and improv.

In Elaine Clark's lecture "Acting In The White Spaces", listeners are introduced to the concept that the script is a roadmap for the actor to navigate. While navigating this roadmap, the audience, guided by Elaine, will learn how read the words and act in the white spaces that connect the words, sentences and paragraphs to tell a cohesive story that has a beginning, middle and an end to connect with their audience.

As a contributor to the Voice Over Experts podcast, Elaine Clark will be lecturing on a regular basis, helping people to understand, develop and succeed in the business of voice acting. Since the lectures are available in the form of podcasts, the lessons are hosted online and can be subscribed to through the Apple iTunes Directory, to be enjoyed at any time convenient to the listener.

The Voice Over Experts Podcast can be found and subscribed to for free in the iTunes Podcast Directory and online at the Voices.com Podcast Center.
