Student Money Maker unveiled their new website focused on providing university students with information products on how to make extra money while attending college.

PR9.NET September 03, 2007 - VANCOUVER, BC. – In an effort to provide valuable and simple money making information to university students, Student Money Maker has just unveiled their new website www.StudentMoneyMaker.com.

The Student Money Maker website is dedicated to providing university students with numerous methods to make additional money online while going to school. The money making methods that have been created provide university students the flexibility to do well in school while making a good income on their own time.

Two information products are currently available on the Student Money Maker website. The first product is titled: ORIGINAL Idea – Make Extra Money From University Students. This business idea outlines an excellent method to make extra money from university students without the students even knowing. This idea is implemented at the beginning of each university semester and has the income potential of over $60,000 per semester! This business idea is selling for $14.95 USD.

The second information product is titled: Find Unlimited FREE Ebooks Using Google's Secret Code. To help find information for university reports and projects, we have developed a way to find ebooks and other valuable information products through the power of Google Search. With the Google Secret Code, customers will be able to find ebooks on any subject imaginable! This product currently sells for $4.95 USD.

"I've excited to get this valuable information out into the hands of university students everywhere, so they can start making extra money easily." stated Richard Haire, founder of Student Money Maker. "With additional money making information products currently in development and scheduled for release later this year, the Student Money Maker website will be a valuable tool for any student in need of extra money."
