PR9.NET September 05, 2007 - Rahway, New Jersey (NJ): Bell Audi, leading auto dealer for Audi vehicles in Rahway, New Jersey, has announced features of German auto engineering, 2007 Audi A8. The premium large sedan is available in three versions. The standard A8 features a 4.2-liter V8 and six-speed automatic transmission that delivers instant throttle response. The L versions are 5.1 inches longer in wheelbase and body. New for 2007, Base and L versions use a V8 and get a 20-horsepower boost to 350 hp. The A8 L W12 features a 12-cylinder engine and 450 horsepower. It's the only 12-cylinder sedan from Germany's big three luxury brands with all-wheel drive.

The sedan's other features include driver-adjustable suspension, specific suspension tuning and steering wheel gearshift paddles. All three versions come with front and rear side airbags, front knee airbags, and curtain side airbags, anti-lock braking system, anti-skid control, and a navigation system. A rearview camera is standard on the W12 and optional on the other models.

Bell Audi has invited its customers to visit its blog section <http://www.bellaudi.com/blog/index.html> for details about the progress in construction of its new location on Route 1 North in Edison.
