Net Solutions North America, LLC a leading web development company in Bellingham, releases Ultra IS Association Edition Website Development Package that allows multiple administrative rights and the application of sites within a website

PR9.NET September 05, 2007 - Bellingham, Washington - With the launch of ProFusion Ultra IS Association Edition Website Package, NSNA has added a new dimension in the field of web site applications for associations, chambers of commerce, franchises and other organizations wishing to improve communications.

The UIS AE provides for multiple site Administrators to allow various departments to keep their page content current.

When asked for a brief description on ProFusion Association Ultra IS Website Package, Patrice Valentine, President of Net Solutions North America said, "The application allows a person or persons with no web development background to act as their own webmasters thereby decreasing the overall cost of ownership. The Ultra IS AE comes with the ability to create an unlimited number of main, secondary and tertiary level pages and choose to display or hide those pages at any time."

The UIS AE allows the Administrator to provide for mini-websites for its members or internal users or divisions. An unlimited number of mini-web sites each with up to 6 main pages, with unique graphics design and unlimited number of sub pages can be created and maintained by the members. The application allows for scheduling of fee based and free events and online registration for those events. It provides survey and polling tools to allow get better feedback from members. The application also includes a searchable member directory and many other functions critical to efficient association management and member communication.

The UIS AE can be further enhanced with the addition of other ProFusion modules like ProFusion Mailer, CRM, E-Learning, Forums, Blogging, and Document management tools.

NSNA builds a wide variety of web applications available under the ProFusion brand name. All of the ProFusion web applications and E-commerce solutions are affordable, user friendly and can be maintained by the site owner without needing advanced computer skills.
