HawaiiWeddings.com, one of the premiere companies providing weddings in hawaii has officially launched their new website design.

PR9.NET September 11, 2007 - Salt Lake City, Utah - The new website design was launched to provide upcoming brides and grooms a great place to look at hawaii wedding photos. The website now contains a new photo gallery that showcases these photos in both Flash and HTML. The goal was to try and bring the beauty of each one of the wedding locations to a visitors computer screen. So, they're able to see for themselves the breathtaking hawaii beach wedding locations.

HawaiiWeddings.com has become the premier place for those couples seeking a destination wedding in hawaii to come to. The site really provides a robust source of information people are looking for when looking for destination weddings in hawaii.

HawaiiWeddings.com is planning on adding several additional features to their website that will even add more to the new site and make it even more user friendly.
