Amazing Dusseldorf is a city guide for English speaking people, working, living, travelling or visiting Dusseldorf.

PR9.NET September 12, 2007 - Germany, Dusseldorf - Dusseldorf is a great place for working and living. The latest annual global report on cities and quality of life by the Canadian Mercer Human Resource Consulting ranks Dusseldorf fifth. Over the course of time the city of Dusseldorf has developed into a major hub for business and commerce. The City is presently experiencing an economic boom and scores through its central position on the Rhine as well as its key position in the Rhine-Ruhr agglomeration. Dusseldorf is one of Germany's leading banking, stock exchange, advertising and telecommunications centres. The artistic and creative potential of the city is convincing.

The English language internet portal www.AmazingDusseldorf.com eases newcomers into life in their new city and the new cultural environment. Important and relevant information are provided concerning themes of every day life and the living experience in Dusseldorf.

Navigating the seven main categories such as "Visit & Discover", "Pleasure & Leisure" or "Health & Care" is clear and user friendly. The main target groups are highly qualified expatriates and families who require easier access to the city, business travellers and tourists.

The listing of English speaking doctors and lawyers or English language schools is as equally part of the AmazingDusseldorf content as are tips on current events, news and comments to regional and national peculiarities. Additionally, direct links to the current weather, the traffic situation in NRW and the arrival schedule of the airport Dusseldorf round off the web based service.

The City Guide www.AmazingDusseldorf.com is a pioneer project of its kind. Further portals are already under construction.
