

A New Internet Marketing Blog Has Launched, & Will Provide Recent Developments and Industry Trends to Internet Marketers

Golden Triangle Distribution, September 20, 2007

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/business/marketing/6374september.html>

Golden Triangle Distribution has launched a new Internet Marketing blog, which aims to inform, educate, support, and equip marketers with tools and resources that will help to increase their profits. By using these free multiple lead generation systems, marketers can now attract more business, and see how current events will impact current & future marketing strategy development.

PR9.NET September 20, 2007 - USA, Jasper, TX - Golden Triangle Distribution has launched a new Internet Marketing blog, which aims to provide marketers access to information, educational materials, support systems, and lead generation tools. Marketers can now attract even more customers to their products or services using multiple lead generation systems that have been specifically designed to boost the number of qualified prospects and eliminate spam complaints. And, they will also be more informed about how current events will affect an existing marketing strategy or the development of new strategies.

"Internet Marketing is such a broad and dynamic industry, last year's hot trend isn't as effective now as it once was and today's hot trend will be replaced by the next development. It helps marketers to have balanced, reliable, and comprehensive coverage of these trends," said James Shankle, Owner of Golden Triangle Distribution. "In addition to these newer trends, it also benefits marketers to have a firm grasp on tried and true marketing strategies that still produce results, and this is where the educational resources and support systems help." The blog itself currently covers 34 areas of internet marketing. Some of the areas covered are: ad tracking & statistics, affiliate marketing, article marketing, blog marketing, ebook marketing, ecommerce, email marketing, ezine marketing, forum marketing, lead generation, link building, network marketing, online auctions, online classifieds, podcasting, ppc marketing, rss feeds, salescopy, search engine marketing, site maps, small business resources, social networking, traffic generation, viral marketing, web directories, web hosting & design, and webmaster resources.

During the upcoming months and weeks the blog will continue to develop and will provide even greater coverage of the issues affecting this industry, in addition to providing visitors with daily updates of these events. It will also continue to provide access to free and low cost marketing tools and resources as they become available. Golden Triangle Distribution also maintains and promotes other blogs and affiliate products/services in other marketing niches. Other helpful information regarding this topic can be found at: <http://the-internet-marketing-resource.eoltt.com>.

###

About Golden Triangle Distribution

Affiliate Marketing