Capital Centre is only two months away from its inaugural grand opening, but looks forward to a introductory soft opening blast with friends of MySpace.

PR9.NET September 25, 2007 - Atlanta, GA - Besides Trump Towers Atlanta it is the most talked about address in Atlanta. And with the grand opening a month away, Capital Centre is extending a soft opening invitation that can't be refused.

The talk around town hasn't all been about Trump Towers Atlanta, however about another development that is scheduled to open this fall. Although Trump Towers Atlanta has gotten rave reviews from the Atlanta community, Capital Centre is looking forward to getting just as much appraisal if not the same.

Unlike Trump Towers Atlanta, which consists of high-end condominium units on 47 floors, Capital Centre consists of low-end luxurious Web Suites, which is a designated web page located within Capital Centre that is individually designed to display the profile of a company. It is best utilized to build awareness of a company's brand by positioning its service in a more business-oriented location. And are priced from the low $3 to high $30 dollars a month including amenities. It is an Internet web portal developed for business purposes and is filled with resources that many small to large businesses can use.

Resources available are Business and Marketing Plan templates, Press Release templates, IRS forms, Business Contracts and Agreements that are available to download. Also add or upload related business resources that the Capital Centre community can use. And a Lets Talk Forum developed for tenants discussing business, marketing, and money topics.

And depending on the Web Suite, which varies from Entrepreneur, Proprietor, Franchise, Executive, Presidential, too Corporate, amenities can include Private Conference (Chat) Room, Cyber Cafe (E-Mail Address), 24 Hour Access, E-Mailroom, Capital Centre Site Directory (Site Map), Secure Access Key (Password/Username), Up to the Minute Market and National News, Message Board access, and a Rolodex to store business contacts. These amenities will allow businesses to network and build reputable relationships with other businesses at Capital Centre that can use its services as well.

During the soft opening scheduled for the first three months beginning October 8 and ending January 8 of 2008; Capital Centre will wave the initial $12 dollars a month fee for its Executive Web Suites to all of its friends on MySpace in anticipation of generating one thousand visitors a month. However, the 250 Capital Centre business cards with your business logo will not be included in the offer as an amenity. For an additional six or twelve month lease, businesses will have the opportunity of renewing their agreement after the three-month free trial.

For more information on leasing one of the luxurious designed Web Suites or becoming a social networking friend please visit www.myspace.com/capitalcentre or www.capitalcentre.net/business to sign up for our Soft Opening three month FREE trial.
