iCADsales.com announced today a lower cost alternative for editing AutoCAD 2008 drawings. progeCAD 2008 standard, now edits and saves AutoCAD 2008 drawings!

PR9.NET October 03, 2007 - Portland, OR, USA – The AutoCAD DWG 2008 support within progeCAD 2008 Standard will allow designers to lower their CAD software and training budget while still supporting the processes they are currently using. CAD users can open the same drawings, run the same menus and commands, and get off the ground running by utilizing the compatibility of progeCAD 2008 Standard at 1/10th the price.

progeCAD 2008 Standard has an interface closely matching what AutoCAD designers are used to using. A new UCS Icon design, "AutoCAD like" icon and text menu, even the layout of toolbars and command line are designed to minimize the impact of migrating to a new CAD system.

Unlike AutoCAD LT, progeCAD Standard includes AutoLISP, support for every version of the DWG drawing format, Rendering, multiple entity property editing, a powerful script recorder that lets you record and play back series of commands, output to PDF, and a powerful block library manager.

progeCAD IntelliCAD also comes in a Professional version including such features as photorealistic rendering, ACIS 3d Solids, Raster Vector Hybrid Editing, VBA, 10,000 blocks, and other important features.
