Manufacturing ERP Producer Awarded for Creative Excellence on the Web.

PR9.NET October 19, 2007 - WAYNE, PA - Deacom, Inc., producer of the DEACOM Integrated Accounting and Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) Software System for building component, modular building, process, and mixed-mode manufacturers, has been recognized for creative excellence on the web by the 2007 W³ Awards. The W³ Awards is the first major web competition among agencies and firms of all sizes, from start-ups to Fortune 500 companies.

The Deacom website was recently re-designed and re-developed with a new Content Management System (CMS) by Philadelphia-based Delphic Sage to give visitors better access to industry-specific ERP software information. One of 2,700 entries received by this year's W³ Awards, the Deacom site was judged and awarded the Silver Award based on quality standards determined by the International Academy of the Visual Arts (IAVA).

"We are honored to receive this acknowledgement from such a distinguished organization as the IAVA," says Deacom's Director of Marketing, Susan Shaw. "It has been a privilege working with the creative minds at Delphic Sage to construct a modern website that helps truss, panel, and batch process manufacturers learn about managing their unique business processes more efficiently."
