Sunday Muse, professional voice actor and Canadian voice acting coach, trains children on how to become cartoon characters on the Voice Over Experts Podcast.

PR9.NET October 23, 2007 - Toronto, Canada – Sunday Muse, Canadian voice actor and teacher specializing in character voice acting instruction for children, is featured this week on the Voice Over Experts Podcast, <http://podcasts.voices.com/>, the top educational podcast for beginner and professional voice actors around the world. The versatile voice talents of Sunday Muse have been heard on popular cartoon series such as Rolie Polie Olie, Angela Anaconda, Jo-Jo's Circus, and as Cheer Bear in Nelvana's Care Bear movies. Sunday Muse teaches voice acting workshops for children and teens in Toronto, Montreal and most recently, New York with students going on to great things, including rising star Siera Florindo and her lead role on the new PBS series "Super Why!" as Red Riding Hood.

The goal of Sunday Muse's lecture "Kids Voice Acting : How To Become a Cartoon Character" is to instill the importance of keeping it 'active'. By projecting a larger than life image with their voices, children learn how to physicalize and vocalize the exaggerated sides of themselves to achieve their objectives and create memorable characters while gaining self-esteem. This lecture is the first of the Voice Over Experts series that is specifically recorded for children.

As a contributor to the Voice Over Experts faculty, Sunday Muse will be lecturing on an ongoing basis to aspiring talent and professional voice actors via podcast on how to understand, hone and grow in their craft. Since the lectures are available in the form of podcasts, the lessons are hosted online and can be heard at any time of day at the convenience of the listener.

The Voice Over Experts Podcast can be found and subscribed to for free in the iTunes Podcast Directory and online at the Voices.com Podcast Center.
