Non-Profit Organization ImportRaffle.com Raffleing off Nissan Skyline R33 GTR, proceeds benefit the Boys and Girls Club of Green Bay, WI.

PR9.NET November 05, 2007 - Miami, FL - Today Florida based non-profit organization ImportRaffle.com has announced the raffle of a 1996 Nissan Skyline R33 GTR, a rare vehicle in the United States. It is a unique vehicle desired worldwide by automotive enthusiasts. With a twin turbo inline 6 cylinder engine, all wheel drive, and all wheel steering it is a competitive vehicle to the more expensive counterparts. Proceeds of the raffle are going to the Boys and Girls Club of Green Bay, WI. The drawing for the R33 GTR raffle, limited to 500 tickets available at $100 each, will take place on December 24, 2007 leaving one lucky winner with a highly desired Christmas gift.

ImportRaffle.com founder James Anderson issued the following statement, "We want to help out the charity that puts fourth their strongest effort but is unable to grasp the large media attention provided for their larger counterparts. By teaming up with Sean Morris Skyline aficionado and Ben Taylor of Turbo Visions (TurboVisions.com) we are able to provide automotive enthusiasts with highly exclusive vehicles at low ticket costs and great raffle odds. We are in return providing those smaller organizations with large donations while giving one lucky winner their dream vehicle."
