

What's Your Sign Baby! Online Dating Goes Seventies

The Spacemate International, November 17, 2007

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/society/relationships/6783november.html>

TheSpaceMate.com, a free, next generation Internet-based dating and Social Networking Community that links members and potential partners based on astrological and personality profile compatibility.

PR9.NET November 17, 2007 - BELLEAIR BLUFFS, FL – "Asking your date, 'What's your sign?' may seem like a throwback to the 1970s, but men and women continue to have a lot of fun exploring their astrological compatibility," said Todd Fritsch, President and Founder of TheSpaceMate.com, a free, next generation Internet-based dating and Social Networking Community that links members and potential partners based on astrological and personality profile compatibility.

Can the fair-minded Libra find happiness with the forceful Scorpio? Do perfectionist Virgos ever live happily ever after with commitment-shy Aquarians? Members of TheSpaceMate.com can search for potential mates based on astrological signs, as well as a variety of other information. According to Fritsch, "We carefully designed TheSpaceMate.com to provide the maximum amount of information on members who are interested in meeting each other, while maintaining privacy until both parties are ready to make contact."

TheSpaceMate.com offers members profiles of potential partners, photos, instant messaging, private mailboxes, and a host of other quality features to enjoy. "Whether a member is looking for someone who shares a sports or hobby interest, a companion for a specific event, or a long-term relationship, TheSpaceMate.com uses cutting edge technology to instantaneously match the member's criteria with the profiles of other registered users," said Fritsch.

TheSpaceMate.com offers completely free memberships, giving members full access to complete member profiles, as well as features including SpaceMessenger (TM) instant messaging, private SpaceMail (TM) accounts, and advanced search capabilities. "Why spend money on online dating services when you can save your cash for dates," asks Fritsch. Future site features include the addition of SpaceMarket (TM), a free forum for members to post classified ads ranging from items for sale to job postings to real estate listings. "We also have a project under wraps that is sure to reshape the landscape of online dating as we know it today," said Fritsch.

"TheSpaceMate.com is a unique and fun way to find friends, dates, and even mates," concluded Fritsch. "It's a safe social networking community that can lead to wonderful connections."

For additional information, email Todd Fritsch at thespacemate@gmail.com

###

About The Spacemate International

TheSpaceMate.com, a free, next generation Internet-based dating and Social Networking Community that links members and potential partners based on astrological and personality profile compatibility.

Phone: 727-259-4180
Website: <http://www.thespacemate.com>
E-Mail: thespacemate@gmail.com
Address: 439 W Overbrook St Belleair Bluffs
Florida 33770