The Big Windmill Motor Lodge in Coffs Harbour, Australia is now empowered to deliver online reservations with instant confirmations, low rates, and more with its website's new booking system.

PR9.NET November 22, 2007 - Coffs Harbour, Australia – The Big Windmill Motor Lodge has stepped up efforts to provide guests with a better accommodation experience, starting from the time they reserve rooms.

The motor lodge recently revamped their website (www.bigwindmill.com.au) to include a booking system that offers immediate confirmations and better rates online. Guests also get to secure a guarantee for their reservations by making a small deposit.

This new customer service addition displays real-time room availability for a period of two weeks. The rates, which are considered among the most competitive online, are shown alongside the available room types. A 10% deposit, which will later be deducted from the total room charge, ensures that the selected room type is available upon a guest's arrival to the property. An automated e-mail, which is sent right after the transaction, confirms the reservation.

All other booking-related concerns, including modifying reservation arrangements, will promptly be addressed by an expertly trained customer service unit.

The motor lodge is one of Coffs Harbour's most recognisable landmarks, because of the windmill at its entrance. The Big Windmill Australia, however, is more than just a captivating sight. It has a full house of modern amenities and creature comforts that will satisfy the guests' demands. The rooms are located off the highway, so guests are assured of quiet, peaceful nights. The facilities, meanwhile, cater to a variety of pursuits, from leisure to business, with a 20-meter swimming pool, restaurant, spa, and conference room. For more information, log on www.bigwindmill.com.au.

Big Windmill's latest service is powered by DirectWithHotels (DWH). The company teams up with accommodation providers worldwide and enables their websites to provide better booking experience with great rates and instant confirmation.
