Shoppremier.com focuses all its efforts on bringing together a wide variety of lighting products to cater to the needs of you as a customer.

PR9.NET December 05, 2007 - Phoenix, Arizona - www.shoppremier.com announces the launch of its premier online lighting store ET2 Lighting. The new addition to the already existing collection of lighting equipment has made a tremendous value addition for Shoppremier (<http://www.Shoppremier.com>), the online store of Premier Lighting, LLC, Arizona. The new store makes available a whole new range of lighting accessories that too at unbelievable prices.

Shoppremier.com focuses all its efforts on bringing together a wide variety of lighting products to cater to the needs of you as a customer. The extensive network is what adds that exclusive touch to the showroom making it possible to source products of different kinds and price range. With the help of trained and experienced staff shoppremier.com has been able to meet the requirements of the customer. The satisfaction of customers is the sole aim of shoppremier.com. A wide range of products are available to choose ranging from cabinet lights to outdoor lights. The Phoenix showroom of the firm which houses a large number of lighting equipment is well stocked keeping with the latest trends and technology. The largest collection in the Southwest, shoppremier.com is an exclusive outlet that offers the very best in lighting at the best possible rates.

Shoppremier.com offers free shipping service for products that are more than $100USD. Shipping fees are charged only if the total amount of purchase is lower than $100 or the product is too large to be carried by the FedEx. The customer would however, be informed beforehand so as to not cause any inconvenience later. The products in stock would be shipped in a matter of 2-3 days. However, in case the chosen product is not in stock then it would require extra time for being ordered from the manufacturer and then shipped to the customer. In order to make the shipment faster products that cost above $150 would be shipped directly from the manufacturer. If the customer is not satisfied with the product the product could be returned on satisfying certain laid down conditions. If conditions are satisfied then the amount would be returned after deducting restocking fees, shipping and handling charges.

Shoppremier (<http://www.Shoppremier.com>) also contains information in the form of articles so as to provide a guideline on how to make use of lighting to enhance the beauty of your home or office. Shoppremier.com believes that the right lighting can add that special touch to a home or any other space and an understanding of how to do it and also getting the right lighting equipment would make all the difference. Shoppremier.com aims at providing a good solution for all your lighting requirements. With shoppremier.com, lighting is no more an issue.

All efforts are aimed at making shoppremier.com the ultimate stop for all your lighting requirements. Shoppremier.com is now the answer to all your lighting needs and provides tremendous flexibility and convenience that is just a click away. The website provides lighting equipment that would help you light up your home and work space with the best lighting equipments without actually making a hole in your pocket.

To take things a step further, Shoppremier (<http://www.Shoppremier.com>) also offers gift vouchers that make very thoughtful gifts to your near and dear ones. Purchasing using the gift voucher and redemption of the gift voucher is rather simple and is a wonderful gift that could actually light up a face with a beautiful smile.
