The new products, like the original where developed to kill germs and viruses that accumulate on exposed skin, plus provide a level of protection against the further accumulation of illness causing germs.

PR9.NET January 07, 2008 - Houston, Texas: Germ Neutralizer will launch a new line of products to complement the original Germ Neutralizer Body Spray, which was developed to provide protection from illness by the spreading of germs and viruses. The original Germ Neutralizer is the revolutionary total body spray that was designed for the healthcare industry in an effort protect employees from the germs transmitted by their patients.

Now, the company that developed this product is offering a complete line of products that can be used in everyday situations, while providing a complete germ-fighting regiment. This new product line will include the Germ Neutralizer Lotion that contains moisturizers to protect the skin, and the Germ Neutralizer Hand Sanitizer; both products contain the same germ-fighting ingredients as the original Germ neutralizer Body Spray.

The new products, like the original where developed to kill germs and viruses that accumulate on exposed skin, plus provide a level of protection against the further accumulation of illness causing germs. These products where designed to be used in hospitals and other healthcare facilities, so they are safe for everyday use.

The Germ Neutralizer Lotion and Hand Sanitizer will be available at the Germ Neutralizer website beginning January 2008, and will provide a lasting level of protection against the accumulation of germs and viruses on exposed skin. The Germ Neutralizer line of products has been proven to be an effective form of protection against the transmission of viruses like SARS, Aseptic Meningitis, Herpangina, Common Cold, and Influenza.

"There are many different types of viruses and contaminants that are present in our environment that are potentially harmful and may cause serious illnesses, but the Germ Neutralizer was developed to protect us against them." Said Thaddeus Collins Developer of the Germ Neutralizer. "As an employee in a healthcare facility I was exposed to these types of germs and viruses, and as a result my daughter suffered from many unexplained bouts of illnesses, until I realized that I was bringing the contaminants that made her sick home."

The new line of products is aimed at consumers who are aware the dangers associated with the spread of germs and viruses, and are looking for an effective, yet easy to use alternative. The Germ Neutralizer line of products provides this level of protection, not only for healthcare employees, but for everyday use by those consumers that want to protect themselves and their families against viruses and germs that can make them sick.

The Germ Neutralizer Body Spray, Lotion, and Hand Sanitizer can only be ordered online at the Germ Neutralizer website located at <http://www.germneutralizer.com>. Also contained on the website is information that consumers, as well as healthcare employees might find useful about the common spread of germs and viruses in their everyday life, plus tips to stop the spreading of these germs.
