Comedy show featuring comedians of different perspectives and generations to be held at The Orchards in Chambersburg, PA on January 25, 2008.

PR9.NET January 08, 2008 - CHAMBERSBURG, PA - Triahn Entertainment (www.triahn.com) announces comedy event and tour stop at The Orchards in Chambersburg, PA on January 25, 2008. The comedians of The Generations of Comedy (www.generationsofcomedy.com) will perform two shows consisting of stand-up comedy from different perspectives and generations. From students to headliners, the comedians on tour range in experience and styles of humor allowing for the show to reach everyone in the audience. No topics are left unexplored with a complete dissection of the political landscape, the blue collar lifestyle, racial tension, and shared life experiences.

The Generations of Comedy show is hosted by David Sky and features comedians Russ McGaffin, Koran Dunbar, Matt Wilder, Hans Scharler, and Quevaughn Bryant. The comedians have a long list of entertainment credits including Conan O'Brien, HBO's The Wire, various MTV shows, and Politically Incorrect with Bill Maher.

"Take a chance with this unique production and collection of comedians," said Hans Scharler, Producer from Triahn Entertainment. "You'll be hooked after one show."

The Orchards (1580 Orchard Drive, Chambersburg, PA) hosts two shows at 8:30pm and 10:30pm on January 25, 2008. Tickets and reservations are available by calling 301-991-0906.
