Mark Riedel will join GRSI as its new Vice President. The news was announced last week by GRSI's CEO Steve. Riedel will be focused on sales and business project management while working from GRSI's Western regional office.

PR9.NET January 15, 2008 - Conshohocken, PA - GRSI, a leading material handling and packaging systems integrator, announced last week that Mark Riedel has joined its executive team as Vice President. Riedel, working from GRSI's Western regional office located in Phoenix, Arizona, will focus on sales and business project management. The announcement was made by Steve Martyn, GRSI's CEO.

Formerly, Riedel worked several years in an executive capacity running operations for major national distribution companies. Larry Kuhn, GRSI's President, states "Riedel will be a fantastic asset, bringing experience and perspective that is highly useful in rounding out GRSI's management team."
