With the slowing economy and downsizing of essential employees, the number of companies turning to Virtual Assistants is on the rise. A Virtual Assistant in Paradise has a unique staffing solution for you.

PR9.NET February 06, 2008 - VENICE, FLORIDA USA - Dawn Riley is excited to be establishing her presence as an entrepreneur with the launching of, A Virtual Assistant in Paradise. Her virtual assistance practice specializes in providing professional administrative support and business management as well as marketing, bookkeeping, and public relations services to small-business owners and busy executives. Servicing accounts of all sizes, from small businesses to corporate executives, to contractors and IT professionals, A Virtual Assistant in Paradise is the overworked business owner's answer to time and budget constraints.

Virtual Assistants take care of the administrative tasks on behalf of your business that you wish to delegate on an as-needed basis. Clients only pay for the time a Virtual Assistant spends on tasks, and if you take into consideration the overhead associated with a salaried employee, a Virtual Assistant is far less expensive. Projects are primarily handled over the phone, by fax, e-mail and even instant messaging. By utilizing today's technology, Virtual Assistants are providing smart office solutions to small businesses, home-based businesses and entrepreneurs world-wide.

With the slowing economy and downsizing of essential employees many companies are being forced to focus their efforts on restructuring their businesses in order to survive. "Business owners and corporate executives should be focusing their time on developing and building relationships with their customers and clients, especially within these challenging economic times. They should not have to split that focus to micromanage the administrative necessities that keep things running smoothly", says Riley.

"Every successful business is built on a strong administrative foundation," Riley continues, "this is where A Virtual Assistant in Paradise comes in. By delegating their administrative tasks to a qualified Virtual Assistant, they will not only save time and money, they will also increase their productivity which will ultimately accelerate the growth and success of their business."

A Virtual Assistant in Paradise offers a variety of administrative support services for those that wish to save time, money and increase productivity. For more information, please visit the company website at: <http://vainparadise.com>
