The business portal for industrial buyers and suppliers, IndustrialLeaders.com, an industrial supply marketplace has re-launched its building products directory designed to promote manufacturers and distributors of building materials

PR9.NET February 18, 2008 - Westboro, MA - Industrial Leaders, a division of Donald LaBelle Associates and member of the IndustrialSAVER network today announced the re-launch of its Building Materials Buying Guide and Directory. According to Vincent Bravano, a spokesperson for the company's New England offices, the new publication will serve as a resource to connect buyers and suppliers of building products throughout North and South America.

The newly revised directory includes offerings on a wide range of building products and materials such as lumber, hardware, doors, windows, vinyl siding, roofing shingles, awnings, hardwood flooring, paint, tile, concrete and bagged cement, sheetrock, electrical building wire, plumbing pipe, insulation, skylights, cabinets, wallpaper, decking, plywood, window shutters, bathroom vanity, PVC pipe and copper pipe fittings, fences, window and door moldings, lighting as well as other building products.

The Building Materials Buying Guide and Directory is available to access on the company's website at http://www.industrialleaders.com/listings/building\_materials.html. According to Bravano, the publication includes offerings mainly from building products manufacturers and distributors based in or serving markets in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Argentina, Brazil, Venezuela and other markets throughout the Americas.

"The publication will help users quickly find suppliers selling all kinds of building materials, tools and hardware," says Conrad Bailey, Business Director of IndustrialLeaders.com." He added, "Whether you're a building contractor, distributor, retailer or do-it-yourself enthusiast, you'll find the materials and tools you need offered by suitable suppliers serving your area or anywhere else throughout North and South America."

Bailey said some of the more useful and informative building products Web sites are featured on the company's 'Industrial Web Awards' page at <http://www.IndustrialLeaders.com/awards.html> along with sites from other suppliers recognized by Industrial Leaders for its quality content and usability. "Our Industrial Web Awards was first brought to the table by Donald LaBelle, CEO of IndustrialLeaders.com to recognize what we find to be client-centered, informative and user-friendly Web sites serving the industrial community," says Bailey.
