New HR whitepaper discusses human resource documents needed by every business.

PR9.NET February 28, 2008 - FARGO, ND - Atlas Business Solutions, Inc. (ABS) announces the release of a new human resource whitepaper describing the four essential HR documents every business needs. By using these important HR documents, managers can set proper staff expectations which save time, foster a fair workplace, and promote compliance and the company's overall philosophy. These HR documents can also be used as a recruitment tool and to create a positive company image. The whitepaper, entitled "The Four HR Documents Every Manager Can't Live Without," is available for free download at www.HRDocumentMaker.com.

"Our HR software caters to small- and mid-size businesses that may not have a dedicated HR manager or human resource department," said Jon Forknell, ABS vice president and general manager. "Many businesses struggle to find an efficient way of taking care of their HR needs. Sometimes businesses even struggle to figure out what exactly is needed. This whitepaper gives businesses a clear description of the HR documents needed and how to implement them."

The four HR documents highlighted in the whitepaper can be produced with HR Document Maker human resource software. HR Document Maker allows employers to easily and quickly prepare office policies, employee handbooks, job descriptions, and HR forms. Users can publish these HR documents with their company information using templates that contain pre-written text. The software also includes IRS forms and U.S. Department of Labor posters. HR Document Maker human resource software can be purchased online at www.HRDocumentMaker.com or by contacting ABS at 1-800-874-8801. Pricing for HR Document Maker is $195 for a single-user license.
