About UZAP

UZAP.com is a free online classified website that differentiates itself from others like eBay and craigslist because of its ask-bid method for transacting goods/services. A seller sets the asking (selling) price and buyers submit bid (offers) amounts. Because of unique technical features, members never receive bids below their asking price when selling online. UZAP launched in March 2008 and is a place to buy, sell, lease, trade and donate goods and services online.
