Expansion enables Ahlmedia's clients additional Marketing and Promotional opportunities as well as enhanced media formats.

PR9.NET April 03, 2008 - Fort Wayne, IN - Ahlmedia, based in Fort Wayne, Indiana, is announcing that the multimedia service provider has expanded its Duplication and Replication services as well as Video Production capabilities. In addition to providing faster turnaround times on duplication and replication services, Ahlmedia will now be offering custom USB duplication and printing.

Enhanced HD and Blue-ray capabilities and our expanded facilities will ensure Ahlmedia remains innovative in the multimedia industry while staying competitive in pricing.

Ahlmedia's services can be used to creatively and conveniently market and promote your company or organization. From CD and DVD reproduction, to creating web streaming video files to producing marketing and training videos; Ahlmedia will continue to be on the cutting edge of media and video services.

Combining ingenuity with technical expertise, our team of professionals will continue working together to coordinate your media projects from their original concept to a final effective product.

As one of the original pioneers in video production in the state of Indiana, Ahlmedia has been providing clients with quality professional video production and duplication services since 1976.

Ahlmedia's greatest resource will continue to be our talented and experienced professional staff. To ensure the best product for your needs, our team is committed to providing the latest in digital media technologies.
