WebWorx24 launches custom Web Design service in association with 123-reg.

PR9.NET April 05, 2008 - London, UK - Web Design studio WebWorx24.co.uk ( <http://www.webworx24.co.uk> ) have teamed up with the biggest UK Domain Name Registrar 123-reg.co.uk to offer Custom Web Design from just £30 per month.

Visitors to 123-reg.co.uk can choose three packages, from a fully designed 5 page website with gallery all the way through to a fully functioning ecommerce website that allows customers to take payments, run forums, generate memberships and lots more. All packages include free monthly updates so that when customers want to make a change they don't have to pay extra.

WebWorx24 MD Henry Lewington commented today: "Up to now, if you wanted a personal or business website there were two options. You could try and build it yourself, or you could employ a web designer or design agency and pay thousands. Those with neither the time nor the funds were left out in the cold. With WebWorx24, these people can have the custom built website they want, for a low monthly cost. And we hold their hands throughout the whole process"

Every package comes with a free domain name and POP3 email services all included, essential to give any business a professional edge. All packages include all hardware, software and hosting fees, and of course include free monthly updates.

"We believe this is how ordering and owning a website should be. No chores, no maintenance, no worries and a sensible, affordable price. It's about time customers were web-served properly" added Lewington.
