The UK gaming industry is impressed by Tritton's range of Dolby 5.1 surround digital gaming headsets.

PR9.NET April 28, 2008 - London, United Kingdom - Global Sourcing (UK) Ltd are delighted to announce that the Tritton AXPc and AX360 gaming headsets have been receiving rave reviews in specialist press publications and online websites within the UK.

The AX360 is the console version of the highly rated Tritton range of Dolby Digital™ and Pro-logic™ certified surround gaming headsets. It's compatible with the Xbox™, Xbox360™, Nintendo Wii™, Playstation 3™, Playstation 2™ and any console or DVD player equipped with an Optical or Coaxial connection.

This is what the industry had to say about the AX360:

"We've been blown away during games of Halo 3, The Orange Box, Sega Rally, FIFA 08 and EVERYTHING ELSE we've played with them on our head. They fit right over your ears, totally blocking out external sound and they've got a comfy, padded design so you really can wear them all weekend without any side effects - apart from going deaf." "...We seriously can't recommend these highly enough. We plucked members from the likes of PC Zone, Official Xbox Magazine and Official Nintendo Magazine and told them to have a listen. We all agree these are the future...." Gavin Ogden, (Editor CVG.com)

"This comfortable headset sounds great and its surround sound makes it perfect for immersive movie and gaming experiences" Kat Orphanides, (Computer Shopper Magazine)

The AXPc ideal for PC gaming, received credit for being a perfect accessory for games and movies as well as a great gadget for the technologically savvy Skype user.

Again the reviews have been great:

"It's interesting that you don't need a soundcard to obtain 5.1 surround sound using these headphones – all the necessary hardware is contained within the inline audio controller." Tanya Combrinck (PC Answers)

Both headsets have been fantastically received in the UK. Global Sourcing UK Ltd and Coolest stuff (Tritton's main distribution channels in the UK) have been commented in several forums for their great level of customer service and satisfaction.

AX360 and AXPc are available from TRITTON's exclusive UK wholesale distributor, Global Sourcing UK LTD and via www.coolleststuff.co.uk, its recommended retailer.
