One of the most useful baby gifts that you can give to a new mom is a baby bib.

PR9.NET May 13, 2008 - Turnersville, NJ – If you have been searching for a creative baby gift, search no further than University Fashions (<http://www.universityfashions.com>) for a personalized gift. Having a baby is a joyous time in someone's life and searching for that perfect gift can sometimes be a challenge. Personalized baby clothing is a great new fashion trend allowing a gift giver to put their original thoughts into the gifts that they are giving.

One of the most useful baby gifts that you can give to a new mom is a baby bib. Why not make it fun and have it personalized with a slogan or with the baby's name? Any new mom will tell you that you cannot have too many bibs.....they seem to always be in the wash. And, a personalized baby gift shows the recipient that you put a great deal of thought into your gift selection.

"As our business has continued to expand, adding baby clothing to our extensive apparel line was a natural fit. As we were selecting which items to offer, we wanted them all to be of the highest quality, but offered at affordable prices," said one of the owners of University Fashions.

In addition to baby bibs, University Fashions offers baby caps, pants, shirts, jackets, onesies, towels and blankets for sale on their website, <http://www.UniversityFashions.com>. Each of these items available can become a personalized baby gift with a click of your mouse. One of the most popular ways to personalize baby clothing is by using a monogram.

So, the next time that you are stuck on a baby gift idea, consider personalizing baby clothing for that extra special touch.
