The team from Break Into Voice Over, Nancy Wolfson and Anna Vocino, discuss some demo faux pas to avoid in order to help voice talent get it right on game day.

PR9.NET May 28, 2008 - Toronto, Canada - Nancy Wolfson and Anna Vocino of Break Into Voice Over were featured last week on the Voice Over Experts Podcast, (podcasts.voices.com), the top educational podcast for aspiring and professional voice actors around the world. Nancy Wolfson, who also has her own private teaching studio, is the owner of Braintracks Audio in Los Angeles, California.

In their first episode, Nancy and Anna share a few minutes of insight identifying common mistakes made in voice over demo production and how rank and file voice actors can avoid them. Similar to a resume, the demo plays a significant role on game day, or in other words, the audition. This podcast aims to make sure that talent present a demo that is polished and presents a clear portrait of their personality and gifts.

Nancy Wolfson and Anna Vocino will continue to generously share their knowledge with aspiring voice actors and professional voice talents via the Voice Over Experts podcast. These weekly podcasts provide working voice actors with consistent inspiration and tips on how to grow in their craft. Available as MP3s, the lessons are hosted online and can be heard at any time of day at the convenience of the listener.

The Voice Over Experts Podcast can be found and subscribed to for free in the iTunes Podcast Directory and online at the Voices.com podcast portal (podcasts.voices.com).
