

Brian Sachs Starts Own Firm; Launches New Informational Website

The Sachs Firm P.C., May 30, 2008

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/society/law/8282may.html>

Brian Sachs, formerly of Schwartzapfel Truhowsky Marcus Sachs P.C. has left the firm and started his own personal injury practice in Huntington Station, New York.

PR9.NET May 30, 2008 - New York - The Sachs Firm P.C. announces the commencement of a new personal injury firm. Brian Sachs has handled thousands of personal injury claims during his career including at his last firm where he was a partner.

A new information website is launched today outlining information for those people who have been injured or died in a car accident, construction accident, slip and fall accident or other type of negligence matter. This website focuses on giving the injured consumer information on how and if they should proceed with a personal injury claim. The website can be viewed at www.sachs-law.com

Brian Sachs has dedicated his career to helping those who have been seriously injured in an accident or through the negligence of others. People who have been injured as a result of an accident or negligence often experience both physical pain and suffering as well as anxiety over the entire upcoming process. The Sachs Firm P.C. helps to alleviate some of the pressures and burdens that befall innocent victims by keeping our clients' cases moving as quickly as possible through the legal system. We offer the hope of a fair and expeditious resolution. The emotional drama and physical afflictions caused by an accident or negligence are difficult in their own right. The processing of your claim through the legal system should not be painful or difficult. This process should be trusted to a personal injury attorney who is knowledgeable, compassionate, and who can take the aggressive approach necessary to move your case along as expeditiously as possible.

###

About The Sachs Firm P.C.

Navigation through the legal system can be difficult. It is important to leave such an important process to a professional who knows how to make a claim, both efficiently and expeditiously, and knows how to negotiate your case to settlement or trial successfully. Brian Sachs and his team of professionals know how to successfully navigate the legal system to work your case effectively. Sometimes bad accidents happen to good people. Don't let your inexperienced real estate attorney handle your personal injury case. Personal injury litigation is a very specialized practice area and you deserve someone who can assist you with the professional experience required to maximize your results.

At Sachs Firm, you're a friend, not a number.

Phone: 888-722-4752
Website: <http://www.sachs-law.com/>
E-Mail: bsachs@sachs-law.com
Address: 33 Walt Whitman Road
Huntington Station, NY 11746

---

PR9.NET - Your Free Press Release Service