PR9.NET July 01, 2008 - Salt Lake City, Utah - Shilo Case, an Independent Executive for Zrii, is pleased to announce his distribution of Zrii and how lives are being changed for the better because of it.

Bill Farley, best known for taking Fruit of the Loom to a multi-billion dollar brand, officially launched Zrii on May 22, 2008 in Salt Lake City, Utah with the largest launch ever in the history of network marketing. However, Zrii product has been available since fall 2007 when a smaller pre-launch was made in October 2007.

Over the last six months, there have been many reports that Zrii has brought relief and prosperity to thousands of people who have been suffering from migraines, insomnia, arthritis, attention deficit disorder (ADD), fatigue, weight control, and mild addictions.

Zrii is rooted in the ancient wisdom of Ayurveda, which is literally translated into "The Science of Life." Ayurveda is an ancient Hindu system of health care that is native to the Indian subcontinent. This system of health care is based on 5,000 years of wisdom including thousands of unique botanicals in it's pharmacopia. Zrii's meticulous formula includes Amalaki, Ginger, Turmeric, Tulsi, Schizandra, Jujube, and Haritaki.

"Through this unique herbal blend, what Zrii does is awakens and opens the pathways of your thinking, memory, intellect, cognitive performance and the whole physiological functioning," says Suhas Kshirsagar, MD. Zrii is formulated by leading doctors and holistic practitioners who represent the very best in the east and west. Zrii is the first third-party product ever to be endorsed by The Chopra Center for Well Being.

Zrii is "wildcrafted" and has a vibrant taste. The Amalaki fruit is known as "the great rejuvenator." It promotes cellular rejuvenation, enhances immune function, and increases vitality. Individually, Ginger, Turmeric, extracts of Tulsi, Schizandra, Jujube, and Haritaki have been known to be used for dyspepsia and colic, easing pain from arthritis, blood thinning, lowering cholesterol, the treatment of heart disease, nausea, pancreatic cancer, Alzheimer's, colorectal cancer, cold remedies, headaches, stomach ailments, inflammation, heart disease, malaria, resisting infections, increasing skin health, combating insomnia, coughing, thirst, calming nerves, reducing the effects of stress, purifying the blood, nourishing tissues; particularly the heart, liver, kidney as well as treating diseases of the eye, blocking the ability to utilize sugars, and helping to eliminate bacteria.
