For Network and Multi-level Marketing business owners, issues can be big and expensive but solutions don't have to be.

PR9.NET July 22, 2008 - North Carolina, US – Entrepreneur, Timothy Tippet, is proud to announce the launch of his new web site www.networkmarketingstudent.com 18 months of trial and error led to turning his own struggling business around and it became apparent that he should share his efforts with others. He has pooled his best resources in an effort to help others struggling in the network marketing industry avoid the same disastrous pitfalls and quickly become successful instead of frustrated. On the site, Mr. Tippet offers his compilation of resources and directs distraught business owners toward step by step tutorials designed to help anyone succeed in any MLM business.

All too often people are lured by the promise of "huge residual incomes", and "products that sell themselves", only to find that no matter how hard they work, or how much money they spend, they end up no further than where they started. Frustrations build, business after business, spending time and money only to find the formula never changes. Same tactics equal same results, little to none.

What any business owner wants is to find their target market, or better yet, have their target market find them. By mapping out a plan to bring potential prospects and customers directly to you, www.networkmarketingstudent.com will point you in the direction to increase your sales and find just the right people to duplicate you and your success.

Instead of spending hours making "who do you know" lists followed by unappreciated phone solicitations, and tons of money buying products, marketers can bypass the mistakes of their leaders and acquire some genuine advice that will really have an impact on their business. Real marketing information is the key to success; www.networkmarketingstudent.com is just the place to receive such counsel.

For those who have spent tons of money trying to find the right business or product line, and years attempting to duplicate their line, this web site will serve as the most significant resource in existence. The information on this web site will offer comprehensive advice from the elite few that have had real success by doing the exact opposite of what their companies were teaching. They stopped cold calling and bugging family and friends, and found instead a tremendous flood of prospects all looking for exactly what they were offering!

The truth about marketing tiers is finally revealed and the real ladder to success is nothing like the one that has been portrayed in the industry. These companies seldom have any real marketing experience, and the ones that do have some do little to keep up with changing marketing trends. Finally, a solution has been made available for all those who have struggled, and for those who want to start their own business without the complications. Network Marketing Student will lay the foundation for a successful business.

Fortunately, help has arrived for network marketers. Minimizing costs while maximizing profits, simplifying efforts, and driving interested recruits right to marketers' sites are the benefits that www.networkmarketingstudent.com customers will reap
